MOUNT SUMMIT'S CRUSADE.

An Objectionable Couple and a Disorderly House Got Rid of by the Good Citizens,

Special to the Indianapolts Journal. NEW CASTLE, Ind., Aug. 1 .- The village ot Mount Summit, six miles north of this city, is all torn up over the presence of two illicit liquor shops, which have been running under the guise of drug stores. Robert Hewitt, proprietor of one of them, has been running a noisy place for several months, and last Thursday night things got so loud around his premises that the populace arose en masse, and ordered him and his wife to pack up and get out of town in short order. They went without parley, and are now rusticating in the country several miles from the scene. Flushed with their success in this direction the vilstore, operated by William L. Brown, and ordered him to leave instanter. Brown showed fight, and the crowd threatened to burn the building. This changed the aspect of affairs, and A. J. Ice, who owned the building, was at once converted from an aggressor to a defender of the rights of the beleagured druggist. He organized a posse, who stood guard faithfully all night long and still zealously guard the property. The people have vowed to rid the community of the odious store, and declare that if the grand jury does not get after Brown in September they will rout him in some way-by force and violence if necespary. Sensational side issues are developing, and divorce suits and slander suits galore are promised soon.

One's Countrymen at the Fair.

J. A. Mitchell, in Scribner. It is no reflection on the Columbian show to confess that perhaps the pleasantest moments are those spent in resting one's rebellious limbs upon a bench and in watching the crowd. It may be less novel and possibly less instructive than some other exhibits, but it is often more amusing. One realizes in studying this infinite stream of humanity how little he really knows, personally, of his own countrymen. New types see m to have sprung into existence for the sole purpose of appearing at this fair. It gives one a startling realization of the varying effects of climate, food and mode of life upon our brothers and sisters. Voice, manner, color, size, shape and mental fittings are so widely different as to suggest varieties in race. But we are all Americans, and those from the interior are more American than the others.

GRAND CIRCUIT RACES.

Bellina's Victory Over Siva the Feature of the Opening Day at Buffalo. BUFFALO, Aug. 1 .- The feature of the opening day of the Grand Circuit meeting here to-day was the victory of Bellina, driven by "General" Turner, in the 2:25 class trot. Siva the winner of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' pures at Detroit, was made a heavy favorite, but at no stage of the race was she to be considered. She was unsteady, repeatedly broke, and Goldsmith could not get her going. Turner has kept Bellina near the front in several recently just to see What was in him. To-day he showed what was in the son of Artillery by making a beautiful killing in really artistic fashion. In no heat of the three was Bellina worried, and he was in front every time. Lors J. and Fascination ran a dead heat for fourth place in the first heat. Robert J. had an easy victory in the 2:10 pace, as the withdrawal of Manager, who will be started in the free-for-all, left him without an opponent worthy of his steel. Director's Flower captured the $2,000 purse for two-year-olds eligible to the 2:35 class, and was never bothered by any of the others. FAST TIME BY CYCLERS. Zimmerman Goes a Quarter of a Mile in 30 1-5 Seconds and a Half Mile in 1:01 4-5.

Special to the Indianapolis fournal. DETROIT, Aug. 1 .- The tenth annual meet of the Michigan Division, L. A. W., began here to-day. The races were very good, some rapid time being made, although, on account of the strong wind which was blowing upon the backs of the riders in the quarter mile open, Zimmerman's time of 30 1/5, which breaks the world's record, may not be accepted. Zimmerman, in the halfmile handicap, almost equaled his own record of 1:01 45. The mile open, which it was expected would be very close between Sanger and Zimmerman, was a great disappointment. The judges set a time limit of 2:30, but none of the starters seemed to try to make the mile inside that time, so, after the distance had been gone over twice, the race was declared off. Sum-
